HARVARD UNIVERSITY

2021 Undergraduate Summer Japanese Language Grant

The Edwin O. Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies (RIJS) will award competitive grants for Harvard undergraduates who plan to enroll in a summer Japanese language study program. The grant will provide funding towards tuition and living expenses. Students in any concentration are eligible to apply but must be in good academic standing and intend to return for the fall semester as full-time students. Preference will be given to those students whose concentrations either require or give credit for language study, or who plan a senior thesis project that makes use of the language to be studied.

Please note that all travel-related support is contingent on Harvard University travel policy and safety protocols. For more information, please visit the following sites for the most up-to-date guidelines: Harvard University Travel Guidance; Harvard Global Support Services Travel Guidance

Application Process:

After logging in with your Harvard credentials, select "Reischauer Institute Undergraduate Summer Language Grant" to start your application. This application requires:

  2. Two letters of recommendation
  3. Proposal of 750 words or less
  4. Current one-page résumé
  5. Current unofficial transcript
- 2) Submit your completed application on CARAT by Monday, February 8, 2021, 5 PM EST.
- 3) Announcement of the awards will be made directly to the student by the end of second week of April. Students have 1 week from the date of the acceptance letter to accept or decline the offer.

Application Instructions to the RIJS Undergraduate Summer Japanese Language Grant:

- We do not expect the applicants to fill out "Project Description" and "Budget" portions of the CARAT application exactly. For applicants who applied to more than one summer language study program, please fill out the "Project Description" portion based on one program (preferably, applicant's top choice). For the "Budget" portion, applicants are expected to carefully research and compile a budget, taking into account tuition and fees, as well as other costs, for the duration of the language program. There is no penalty for entering incorrect information, but the committee is interested in knowing applicants' budgeting skills. Applicants can fill out as much as they can and enter "N/A" in the required fields they are uncertain about.
- Application must be supported by two letters of recommendation, including one from a language instructor. When requesting a recommendation from a Japanese language instructor, please provide the instructor with the "Language Instructor Reference" sheet (available on the website). Letters of recommendation must be uploaded to CARAT by the recommender or his/her proxy.

- In the 750-word proposal, applicants must indicate all the summer language program(s) to which they have applied (e.g. HIF, IUC, KCJS, PII) and list their preference. The proposal should explain their degree of preparation for studying Japanese in the summer in Japan and how such an opportunity will fit into their overall course of study at Harvard. We do not have any specific formatting guidelines for proposal and résumé, but please keep the proposal to 750 words and résumé to one page. The Office of Career Services (OCS) offers great resources on proposals and résumés, which can be accessed here.
- Applicants are highly encouraged to apply for other funding sources (e.g. Office of Career Services), but they must inform the RIJS if they have received other funding to support their participation in the program. Should an applicant receive funding from other sources that is greater or equal to our maximum funding amount, the applicant will no longer be considered for RIJS funding and the application will be withdrawn automatically. However, the applicant can still receive pre-departure and on-grounds support from the RIJS and partake in the summer activities organized by the RIJS.
- Any incomplete applications, or those that do not follow the instructions above, will not be considered.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Monday, February 8, 2021, by 5:00 PM EST on CARAT.
